Interested in gaining research experience? Want to apply your skills to solving challenging problems involving people and technology?

Looking for self-motivated undergraduate students in computer science and social science to work on summer projects in an interdisciplinary research lab.

PROGRAM DETAILS:
May 28th – August 2nd
$15-20 per hour
10 weeks/ 40 hours per week
Michigan State University

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES:
• Firefox application creation
• Windows programming
• Data visualization
• Survey design
• Analyzing quantitative and qualitative data
• Designing and running experiments

Computer Science:
Learn to program in new environments and with new technologies

Social Science:
Gain experience in data collection and experiment design

Apply:
bitlab.cas.msu.edu/summer.html
Application review starts
APRIL 8TH